In the upper photo if you look at the corner where the two tents are pitched, you'll see trees on both corners of the angle. The only spot in the Blossville field where the cemetery was started where this occurs is where the X is located. The upper photo is from the 82nd AB Museum at Bragg. Dave Berry provided the lower photo.

HIGHLIGHTS AND OBSERVATIONS TO ASSIST FUTURE PLANNING

1. Graves Registration units need more O55 clerks skilled as typists.
2. Graves Registration platoons should be self-sufficient as to messing facilities.
3. More attention should be paid to identification of unknowns by qualified identification teams using fingerprinting and other recognized techniques.

REF No. 127,
7 June 1944.

SUBJECT: Missing Air Crew.

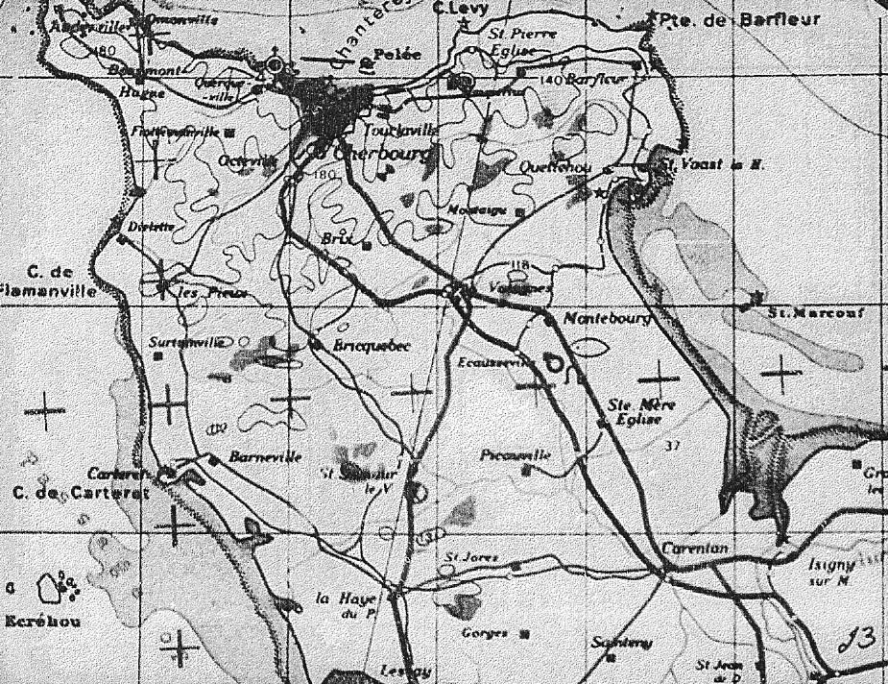

1. To inform you concern.

On the night of June the fifth and the morning of June the sixth I was flying with the 91st Reconnaissance Squadron in the capacity of a navigator. I think I was the last person to sight the plane piloted by 2nd Lt. [redacted], as the plane had been seen while southeast of the harbour in the central part of the Cherbourg Peninsula, France. He was out of cloud bank, entered a flak area, veered off to the left and disappeared. I did not see him crash nor did I see him hit by any type of missile. All of this happened before the drop zone was reached and to the best of my knowledge no Paratroopers were dropped. I have talked to other crew members and there seems to be no other information concerning this plane.
